

Cerberus Registration for the Xbox 360™

Your promotional code included an unlock for both PC and Xbox 360 platforms. To access your content on the Xbox 360, please ensure you activate Cerberus in-game using the same account you used while redeeming this code on the social website. Once you have done this, your content will be available for download from Xbox LIVE via the in-game store.

This will be shown on the very first time you login. All subsequent times will take you straight to the login screen when you try to connect.

2

Here is where you create a new EA Online account or log in to an existing one. If you are creating an account, please remember the account credentials for use on the Bioware Social Network. If you are logging in to an existing account, please use the account that you would normally use on the Bioware Social Network (this will ensure your game can access your promotional code entitlements).

Once you are registered with EA Online, you may have the option to redeem your Cerberus Network card. If you have already redeemed your card on the website against your matching Social Network account, you will not see this screen.

4

If you are Cerberus enabled (via code or purchase), you will see the welcome screen.

5

Now that you are connected to the Cerberus Network, click the "New Content Available" to download your Cerberus Network content (all associated promotional items will be downloadable here too).
